CHARLES CHAPMAN, who completes his work here after nine years as principal of Bethel Grammar School (now Crescent Park), a graduate of Farmington State Teachers' College with B. S. degree, has had taught previously at Starks, Fairbanks, Rockland Junior High, and Dover-Foxcroft. Mr. Chapman has had 10 years of study in music and has played with several of the better bands in the State. He has had radio experience on stations WRDO and WLBZ. He has spent three summers in stage show work. ### AMERICAN LEGION JUNIOR BASEBALL TO HOLD TRY-OUTS FRIDAY AT THURSTON FIELD

Mundt-Allen Post of Bethel will field a baseball team this year. Any boy whose birth date comes on or after January 1, 1937, is eligible to play. Try-outs will be held on Thurston field at 5:30 p. m. Friday afternoon.

It is hoped that there will be a large turnout of boys because the rules now permit a larger squad. The county schedule is as follows:

June 22—at Norway fair grounds
June 26—Fryeburg here.
June 29—South Paris here.
July 3—at Fryeburg.
July 6—Norway here.
July 10—at South Paris.
The ladies of the Legion Auxiliary are busy mending and sewing uniforms for the team.

Vicky Brown underwent a tonsillectomy on Saturday.

Two 15,000 gallon oil tanks were erected last week by D. Grover Brooks on the lot formerly occupied by the Standard Oil Company tanks. The tanks are each 10 1/2 feet in diameter and 23 feet high.

The Week in Oxford County

Maintenance work is being done to sections of road on Route 2 between Dixfield and Bethel.

Class of 1954, Norway High School held a banquet at the Universalist Church Friday evening.

Three Rumford boys, Bobby Buchanan, Pine St., Brent Rinaldo, Hamcock St., and Teddy Hushie, Cumberland St., became lost Monday while on a fishing trip in the Bear Brook section. They were found by searchers early Tuesday morning. The trio realized they were confused, lit a fire, cooked their fish, and went to sleep to wait.

COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

In cooperation with Rumford and Gilead we purchased a carload of Calcium Chloride for use on the roads. A part of this has been already applied to the piece of road just beyond Mr. Graves' residence on the West Bethel Flat road, a little over one mile in length to the four corners. You may be interested in watching this strip of road, as we hope the Calcium will not only keep the dust down, but will help stabilize the road and lessen the amount of "potholes and washboards." The cost is of course far less than tar and is being used throughout this state more and more each year on those roads with a small amount of traffic.

I feel that the people should know that as representatives of the Town of Bethel, Mrs. Rozelle and I were accorded every possible courtesy during the Gould Commencement. On behalf of the Town and ourselves we extend to the Trustees, Faculty and Alumni Association our heartfelt thanks. Truly there are many reasons for the close cooperation of Bethel and Gould. Where in New England or even in the United States could a preparatory school find a more beautiful setting than Gould enjoys in this town? And on the other hand are the young people in very many other towns of New England offered the excellent privilege of education that Bethel children are able to have?

O. T. Rozelle

GOULD ALUMNUS NOW OUT

The 1954 issue of the Gould Almanac went on sale Saturday morning preceding the annual meeting of the Gould Academy Alumni Association. Issued at five year intervals this 72 page book brings news of Gould alumni up to May of this year. The items were secured through questionnaires sent out last winter, by contribution of interesting facts by friends, and from news articles pertaining to alumni.

Besides the usual reports of the faculty, athletic records and Alumni Association highlights, this issue features a listing of several families represented through four or more generations in the old school. These interesting articles and the listing of some 2000 names make the book one of great interest to all who are interested in Gould. The work is a credit to the Alumni Secretary, Miss Eva Bean, from whom copies may be obtained.

RUMFORD HOBBOES DOWN BETHEL 3-1 IN PTL CONTEST

The Rumford Hobboes emerged with a 3-1 victory over the Bethel A. C. in a Pine Tree League contest played at Thurston Field Wednesday evening.

On the mound for Rumford was Shea a left-hander, who bore down and pitched well with runners on. Guy Parker pitched good ball for the losers but to no avail as his mates could push across but one tally.

Bethel will meet the Rumford Redskins at Hoarier Field, Rumford, Sunday afternoon at 2:30. Players are asked to meet in front of the Bethel Post Office at 12:45 Sunday afternoon for the Rumford trip.

LOOKING AHEAD

By Dr. George A. Brown
SPECIAL - FUTURE
EDUCATION PROGRAM
Bethel, Maine

Three Great Canons

What our children of today are taught will determine the way of life this nation will have in the years ahead. Nothing, therefore, could be more important to the future welfare of the people of America than the substance of the education that will be given to the 25,000,000 youngsters who will enroll in our schools next September. A sound observation regarding one phase of this education has been made by Mark C. Schinnerer, superintendent of the Cleveland (Ohio) schools.

John W. Stuebel, chairman of the Scholastic Magazine's editorial board and former U. S. Commissioner of Education, comments on Schinnerer's statement, and I hope it will be read by all parents and teachers, by everybody. "This is about the teaching of economics," Dr. Schinnerer wrote. "It is not directed just to teachers of economics, but to all teachers. It is directed to all teachers because the job that needs to be done cannot be done by just the teachers of economics."

"There is a colossal oversupply of people in my country who either never discovered some of the basic principles of economics or think that the economic laws have been repealed. We hear much wailing that the schools have failed in this regard and the cry is for required courses in economics. We have failed in school and out, but this answer is not in required courses."

"The answer, in my opinion, lies in a continuous effort to inculcate to children, from the kindergarten through high school, some basic and very simple facts. There are three things which almost anyone can be brought to understand, and if these three are ingrained, we can have the more complicated principles to the experts. Nothing for Nothing.

"No 1. You can't get something for nothing. Too many think they can. That is the basis of gambling and most speculation. Giving a higher mark in school than is earned is proving that the student can get something for nothing. That is bad business. When parents urge no homework, they somehow expect something for nothing. One gets out of school work about what he puts into it. Only parasites get something for nothing.

"No 2. You can't spend more than you have and remain solvent. The longer such a system is followed, the more impossible it becomes to keep afloat. How anyone who trades in a continued loss on a new car and has both a new car and a bigger mortgage? The wheels are full of such people. It is bad economics. It is somewhat like drug addiction. This applies equally to a person, a business, or a government.

"No 3. You cannot equate ability by a handicap system. It is wrong to expect as much from a youngster with a low IQ as is expected from a youngster with a high IQ. It is also wrong to set up handicaps so that they come out even. There is no excuse for the practice of the racing stewards. Handicapping still has a place in America, these gentlemen, and I don't want it any other way.

"In every school day, there are numerous incidents in each student's school experience when these three fundamentals are present. Just constantly bringing them to the people's consciousness will work wonders. If all our people accepted these three economic axioms and lived by them, we would live in an economic paradise."

As I have written these down, it seems to me that the fundamental economic laws on which we all need to be re-educated, especially in a world in which gathering pressures of some kind for nothing are being made by the Communists and Communists and their dupes. It is good to see these fundamentals propounded by one of America's top public school educators.

DALE CARNEGIE

AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING"

CHARLES WILLIAM JACKSON, Anaheim, California, says he once worked for a Road Improvement company owned by two brothers in a small central Illinois town. It was a prospering company and the two brothers were quite wealthy. The youngest brother's name was Hal and the older was George.

Hal was a nervous type. Always on the go, never seemed to relax. Everything was business with Hal, and it all had to be just so or he would be running around like a chicken with his head cut off.

George, the older one, was different. He never got excited, was never in a hurry. He would walk around in an old pair of overalls with a chew of tobacco in his mouth, not seeming to care whether or not the sun set.

About twice a year Hal would get in such a frenzy he would take a two week trip to the Mayo Brothers Clinic in Minnesota for a rest. It puzzled Charles Jackson why Hal would have to go for a rest while George always seemed to be the same year after year.

One day, as Hal was preparing to leave for the Clinic, Charles said to George, "George, why is it that Hal takes these trips to the Clinic all the time? I never see you going up there." Said George, "I'll tell you, Hal has always been a worrier. Even at night he takes his troubles right to bed with him and fights with them all night long. But I try a different way. At night before I go to bed I walk through the kitchen and leave my troubles right on the kitchen table, then in the morning when I get up I come out and pick them up again with a fresh and clear mind."

And that is why a man five years older than his brother looks and acts five years younger.

Economic Highlights . . . . .

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare

"We must have a strong and favorable majority in congress if we are to complete the job we began together in Athens two years ago," wrote the President, in a letter to the national citizens for Eisenhower, congressional committee. He also observed that "the challenge is tremendous."

That the Republican leadership is very deeply concerned with the coming elections goes without saying. Their control of Congress is tenuous to an extreme. And, while the President personally won with ease in 1952, that was not the case for the Republican candidates as a group.

An exhaustive study has been made of the '48 and '52 elections by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan, and its findings are described in the June 4 issue of U. S. News and World Report. The big point it makes is that Mr. Eisenhower won because great numbers of registered Democrats voted for him. In other words, if the Democrats who voted for Mr. Truman four years before had stuck with the party, Mr. Eisenhower would now be occupying the White House.

Party allegiance was a small factor in '52—only eight per cent of the voters queried gave it as a reason for their choice. The important elements were such matters as domestic issues, foreign policy, the candidate's personality, and the "time for a change" feeling.

With a few exceptions, the Eisenhower swing strongly affected all classifications of voters. Here are some of the examples cited by the survey: the difference between these percentages and 100 per cent is principally accounted for by non-voters. In 1948, young people voted 32 per cent Democratic and 19 per cent Republican; in '52 it went 31 per cent and 37 per cent respectively. In '48 older people voted 27 per cent Democratic and 31 per cent Republican; in '52 the division was 27 per cent and 48 per cent. Where union members voted 65 per cent Democratic and a mere 13 per cent Republican in '48, the '52 breakdown was 43 per cent and 33 per cent respectively. The low-income groups, heavily Democratic in '48, gave Mr. Eisenhower a substantial majority of their vote. The GOP also registered heavy gains among church people. This was especially noticeable in the case of Catholics, who voted almost two-to-one Democratic in '48, while in '52 they gave the Democrats a bare majority.

On the other hand, Republican ground was lost among Negroes, college people and the professional and managerial group, though the party did carry this last group by a wide margin.

The survey stresses that the millions of registered Democrats who voted for Mr. Eisenhower did not do so because of any strong feeling for Republican politics, but because they liked and admired the man. Then it makes this observation, which is the key question mark in the November election picture: "It is problematic how long and under what conditions the Republican Party can depend on their support. Whether the balance of forces which we have observed in 1952 will endure or not depends in large part on the extent to which domestic and foreign events force a re-evaluation of these factors in the minds of the voters."

To analyze the charms of flowery is like dissecting music; it is one of those things which it is far better to enjoy, than attempt fully to understand.

—Henry T. Tuckerman

SCANNING THE NEWS

AS THE Army-Senator McCarthy dispute dragged on and on, one question was pondered more and more by observers of the political scene: How has the affair affected the popularity of Joe McCarthy?

It is impossible to say for certain, but most veteran observers seem to feel that many McCarthy supporters dropped off the line during the lengthy hearings. Those who do believe say the hearings alone didn't cause Joe a loss in following, the comment being that the Senator has himself more recently challenged and defying the President.

While the hearings dragged on, a similar question was asked by the Administration and the Senator. To summarize very carefully avoided a public showdown with the Wisconsin Senator. The President's most delicate action in the matter, that of placing a ban on testimony about a high-level Executive meeting, drew strong fire from McCarthy, who said the President was ill-advised. Some considered this a back-handed slap at the Administration in general and at the same time a compliment to the President.

A great number of the American people decided two things about the hearings. The first was that the hearings will do the Republican Party no good. The second, despite the charges and counter-charges, Senator McCarthy was very much on track. Many officers went on to a commendation for an argument with the words: "Are you for, or against McCarthy?"

SOMETIMES I wonder where the radio quiz shows find so many unusual people to serve as contestants. Don't get me wrong; I know that this planet is inhabited by a goodly quantity of nuts and screwballs — excluding, of course, you and me and overlooking the fact that even then we sometimes doubt one another.

The thing that amazes me about the people who appear on quiz shows is that practically all of them have been married from 20 to 30 years and, in their own words, the marriage has been "one continual honeymoon."

Marriages should be made in heaven, and a lot of them are. But the honeymoon doesn't last. It's not supposed to, either, and I don't think folks should keep kidding themselves for years on end. In some cases the honeymoon is ended when the husband no longer gets his morning coffee in bed. It's only a memory when hubby "forgets" to open the car door for his "bride" before getting under the steering wheel. And, when Ma and Pa engage in a verbal difference of opinion about what's best for one of their offspring—face it, friends, you've had it.

Personally, I wouldn't want to endure a honeymoon that lasted for 30 years. I was very happy the day the little woman and I stopped trying to impress each other with our intelligence and wit, courtly manners, and let's face it, "put-on."

When we began to act our normal selves, we found a comfortable feeling we expect to share during years of wedded bliss, an "at home" feeling no one ever enjoyed on a honeymoon.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Roonton, N. J., Times Bulletin: "With Benjamin Franklin, we say: 'When men are employed, they are best contented; for on the days they worked they were good-natured and cheerful, and with the consciousness of having done a good day's work, they spent the evening jolly; but on our idle days they were morose and quarrelsome.' If we think on this, we appreciate it the more."

Half Moon Bay, Calif., Review: "Taking the nationwide average in manufacturing industry, for every dollar received from the sales of its product a firm will spend 48 cents for materials and supplies; 22 cents for wages, salaries and other employee benefits; nine cents for taxes; six cents for repairs, replacements, etc.; three cents for research and promotion—keeping four cents out of each dollar as profit."

Conoverville, Pa., Record: "... members of Congress have discovered that neither the State Department nor the Treasury has a complete compilation of the amounts of money which the United States has given, loaned or credited to foreign countries during and since World War II. The total is believed to be about $100 billion."

Bay City, Mich., Valley Farmer: "To think about our whole free enterprise as one vast economic machine is really not so very far-fetched because that is the way it works. No single part of it functions all by itself. Every industry, every factory, every machine tool, even one-man business, every newspaper daily or weekly is connected in many ways with all the rest of the economy."

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLDTIMERS

From Leola Heath, Detroit, Michigan: I remember doing janitor work and shoveling snow while teaching about 60 grade pupils for 23 years. My family was delighted. My sister had done the same thing before me for $25 a month and my father before her had received 50 cents a day and "boarded round."

I remember with joy the horse-propelled merry-go-round where you rode with your "sweetie" for 15 minutes for 50¢ a ride. The owner of said "amusement" would wear cotton whiskers and Santa Claus suits, to the rural children's delight. How wonderful it was to have Santa call one by name! I also remember with sorrow how those whiskers caught fire from tree candles of his daughter's first job as "teacher"; the merry-go-round and our Santa were no more.

The churches served lunches and ice cream at the Fourth of July picnics for 5¢ for each article and many a swimmer and said, "Lick your head, but you're worth it."

Funerals were from the homes and the neighbors dug and lined the graves, often making the coffin from trees cut on their homesteads. The burial might be in the churchyard or it might be on the home place, with a fence put about the grave to keep the cattle off.
